

Passion in Art

Paintings by Richard Young

EXHIBITION OPENS SATURDAY

Richard Young FRSA

Richard was born in Yorkshire in 1961 and is now based in North Devon. Although he always had a flair for pencil and chalk drawing he began oil painting at the age of 12, studied hard, developed a talent and practiced in every spare moment, enjoying early regional competition success and media publicity for his work in the North of England. Fortunately, his tutors recognised his skill and encouraged him to undertake both Ordinary and Advanced level art exams at an early age, which he passed with top grades.

Being financially driven at that time, in 1983 Richard graduated in engineering and with a passion for travel, initially pursued a career as a design consultant with various international design consulting companies, residing primarily in the Middle East. However, an artisan at heart, he returned to Commercial Art several years ago, extensively developing his skills and his own personal style.

Richard's paintings have been exhibited in galleries throughout the UK and beyond, included in leading art magazine publications and his collectors span the globe.
